

Board Member Profile

Rob Richter

Rob Richter earned a BA from Connecticut College and a MALS from Wesleyan University. He currently serves as Director of Arts Programming at Connecticut College, where he is responsible for the college's performing arts series, onStage at Connecticut College and artist residency programs. Also, Rob is an independent museum education and theater consultant. He has worked throughout the United States as an actor and director of theater and video productions. He has been a teacher of arts programs in schools, libraries, museums, community centers and correctional institutions.