Susan feels that Main Street has made a huge difference in New London over the past five years. She says, "Main Street has implemented many wonderful design projects to improve the physical appearance of the downtown, and they have brought thousands of people to The District by producing wonderful events. All of these efforts help the retail business owners to succeed. There is so much going on in the arts and music venues that finally New London is becoming a destination again. With three colleges in town, I think we should always be aware of our role in making this a fun place for students to spend time and enjoy. The colleges are a big asset to New London".

When Susan is not helping out with Main Street projects, she is on the board of directors for Big Brothers/Big Sisters and L & M Benefactors Society. She is also a Corporator for Dime Bank and a member of The Old Lyme Economic Development Committee.
